

Reiki & Seichem

1st Degree Booking Form

Reiki and Seichem attunements are a very ancient process for fine tuning the physical and metaphysical body, to a higher vibratory level. The attunement is a process of empowerment that opens a purified channel to your crown, third eye, throat and heart chakras, and to the palms of your hands, allowing the Reiki energy to pass through. Once this channel has been opened, it will remain open for the rest of a person's life and can be activated simply through touch, intention, or with the use of symbols. These changes may activate a physical or emotional release known as the "healing process". It is therefore traditionally accepted, that to improve the results of the initiations, students should follow a process of purification, (de-tox) in the days leading up to the attunements.

So, for three to five days, you should try to cut out or to reduce all things containing toxins, such as meat, fish and fowl (unless they are organic), caffeine, alcohol, smoking, chocolate, and to stop watching negative or violent programs on the television etc. It is recommended that you relax, meditate and take quiet walks in the countryside, to prepare your body and mind for the higher vibrations of being a Reiki Healer, and a Lightworker.

First Degree Reiki AND Seichem Training The exchange for tuition is: £95

The attunement enables you to become a healer of yourself and others, particularly on the physical level. You receive a Reiki initiation on the first day and an attunement to the Silver Violet Flame on the second day.
